13 Cast from Monument to Henry Clay.—

We take pleasure in laying before our readers the following description of the Monument about to be erected in the berough of Pottsville. The design is drawn by F. Hewson, Eq. The statue, a correct likeness of Henry Glay, to be forreished from the celebrated ornamental iron-works of Mr. Robert Wood, of this city, is of east iron.

The model is being prepared by Mr. Wood's principal artist and sculptor, H. Wesché. Esq., a pupil of the distinguished Schantnaier and Cornelius, whose reputation artsined to a high degree of excellence is Europe prior to his engagement with Mr. Wood, to whom he was introduced some three years since, by the highly celebrated Von Siebald, St. Martin near B. ppare on the Rhein, who in his lastering letter of introduction, congratulated the New World, that Mr. Wesché designed to devote his talents and active life to the promo-ive of the arts in thise amorty.

"In a late visit to Pottsville, I was much gratified to witness the public spirit and noble patriotism evinced by the estitizers of that place and surrounding country, in erecting a beautiful east iron monument to the memory of Henry Clay, which is now being reserted or a beautiful and commanding eminence, near the center of the borough.

"I made some inquiry of the persons who have charge of the matter, and learned that the design of the monument as drawn by F. Hewson, Esq., and adopted by the Committee, is as follows:

"The statue is to be a correct likeness of the great Statesman, and made of cast from, fifteen feet in hight, and with man and made of cast from, fifteen feet in hight, and with search produced the sight of column on the face of the monument:

"The statue is to be a correct likeness of the great Statesman, and made of cast from, fifteen feet in hight, and with search produced the sight of column on the face of the monument:

HENRY CLAY,

AMERICA'S GREAT ORATOR, STATESMAN AND PATRIOT This Monument was Erected BY THE CITIZENS OF SCHUYLKILL COUNTY, And bequeathed to their Children,

AS A BECORD OF THEIR GRATITUDE, For his illustrious services, which brought peace, prosperity A TRIBUTE OF AFFECTION

For his virtues, which adorned his useful hie, and won for in imperishable name the RESPECT AND AFFECTION OF MANKIND

"I also visited Monument Hill, and found the stone out-ters and masons busily engaged in laying the foundation, on which is to be reared this noble structure, and was informed that the cast iron work for the column was being made at the foundies in the borough, and the statue was contracted for, and to be furnished at the earliest possible time, by Mr. Robt Wood, from his ornamental iron works on Ridge Road, Pulladelphia for, and to be furnished at the estitus possible time, or an Ridge Road, Philadelphia.

"And what was equally important, I was teld that the funds necessary to its final completion could be most readily collected; the subscriptions being of small amount, in order to give all an opportunity of contributing. The mechanics and working men are vieing with each other, in making up the largest contributions from their mines and workshops.

"How gratifying such a spectacle is to the Patriot, to see the working men of a community anxious to propolate by their united efforts in the erection of such memeatoes, of their gratifude and affection for one who has done so much to prome or their own and the universal interest of mankind. And let me ask, where you will find more of this noble trait of character in the whole Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, than among the citizens of Schuylkill County! So far as I have observed, others talk, while they act. If I an not mistaken, there has been no movement of the kind any where she in Pennsylvania, and yet the services readered by that illustrious patriot and stateman to make Pennsylvania what she now is, and what she is destined to be, are sufficient to erect monuments to his memory, a every county in the State.

"I was also shown a beautiful drawing of the ground and in the State.

"I was also shown a beautiful drawing of the ground and plan of the monument, which is intended to be littingraphed and distributed among the contributors to this noble work, which will make a beautiful picture, alike worthy of the architect who planned the design, and the artist that sketched the view.

"In conclusion, permit me to say, in the example here sot by the enterprising people of Pottsville, it will be gratifying to see other towns and villages following, until every county in the State shall point to her monument, exacted to the memory of Henry Clay, America's brightest ornament and most henored son. ost henored son.
